

KEVIN VAN WHYE

Short Bio:

Kevin van Whye is a writer born and raised in South Africa, where his love for storytelling started at a young age. At four years old, he quit preschool because his teacher couldn't tell a story. Kevin's love affair with stories led him to film school to study script writing. Date Me, Bryson Keller is his first novel. Kevin currently lives in Johannesburg.

Longer Bio:

Kevin van Whye is the author of Date Me, Bryson Keller, a LGBTQ Rom-Com forthcoming from Random House Books for Young Readers in Summer 2020. When Kevin was in High School, he won an award for writing a school play, and there's a trophy with his name on. Kevin studied script writing and producing at film school for two years before dropping out. Since then he's written a short film that is in development with a film commission here in South Africa and edited a script for a feature film in pre-production. Kevin has also worked as a remote intern for a Literary Agency in the US. He sometimes freelance edits, and sometimes mentors in Author Mentor Match. When Kevin's not writing or reading, he can be found either watching tv series/movies, listening to music or playing video games. Kevin currently lives in Johannesburg South Africa. He is represented by Robert Guinsler of Sterling Lord Literistic, Inc.
